Preface

Well, I don't know will you like this book as this is my first book and I also wrote this in just one day. If you like this book, that is really weird. Please read this book. You can also give me suggestions, other tips and ideas on writing books in mail id which is given at the last page (back page).

So, today I was reading a sci-fi book called "A Wrinkle In Time" and suddenly I heard someone knocking on my door. Wait, did I introduce myself?

I am Zach Scaite. I am a writer living in Washington. I love ants so much, so I have a hobby of giving ants food. Not exactly giving them food, I take a leaf and put some sugar, after I see it full of ants, I take it and put it to Billy City. Billy City is like a castle I made in sand for ants. Also, about more than 60 ants are in Billy City! That means you can just imagine how big Billy City is. As I am a writer, I am at my house most time. So I am able to give them some sugar, rice and any other food remainings any time I want.

So back to the door case, someone knocked my door and I went to check who it is. For my surprise, it was a gift box out there! So I took it inside and unwrapped it. It had a note and also a popular drink like coke and pepsi called "Alstunees" which I have never tried! The note said:

"Mr.Zach,

I am Dr.Samuel B John, Ceo of Alstunees and I am a big fan of your science fiction books! So please drink our drink with a new premium flavor called OG. I hope you like it.

A big fan of yours,

Dr.Samuel B John"

As he said this much, I thought I should taste it. I drank it. I felt like I wanted to nap and I fell down and also my eyes were closed. When I opened my eyes, it was a big rock that was like 2 times bigger than me in front of me. I looked all the directions and I felt like I know this place.

Then after I walked sometimes in that forest, I saw a creature in front of me. It was a fly with red round eyes and I wanted to run, but my mind was telling me no. You might me wondering why am I trying to run after seeing a fly, right? It's because it was about my size! After sometimes standing there like a statue, that fly flew away and I understood which place it is. It was Billy Land! Yea, I forgot to mention that Billy Land is also a small forest (It is in the size of an entire room). I figured out what happened. That Alstunees drink shrank me down! Ok let's imagine it like that, but still I had many questions. How can I still breath (As air contains small particles and dust which will never allow a human to breath air if we are this small)? I drank this drink at my hall and how am I in the Billy City which is in my backyard? While walking, I again heard a bell ring. But, now it was my friend Jack Harry. "Hellooooo? Anybody here?" he was shouting it from the front of my house and I can it even from here! I tried shouting with as much as voice I can, but no use. I tried not going outside the walls of Billy City and not going near to any ants. You know why? Yea, I forget to mention that Billy City have walls! Yea back to the thing why not going outside. There are more dangerous animals like snakes and stuff outside this walls and that's why walls are here. There are also some small holes which can be used by the ants to go in or out. Cool, right? And why I don't want any Ant to see me? Well, you know I am also in the size of an ant. Exactly After sometimes walking, I saw the board "Farm of Billy City". I have made some boards with cardboard and put everywhere here. Like 'castle', 'Houses', 'Farm' and more.

This farm had some small fruit plants and some other stuff for me and the ants. Yea, I also take some fresh organic fruits from here. There I found some cherries at the ground. I was not even able to bite it. It was that strong! Again, I started walking and I saw an ant! It was running towards me! I ran as fast as possible and it was not enough. That ant was faster than me!

I did my best and somehow I escaped. But the problem was, I escaped from one ant and entered the city of ants. I saw many ants coming towards me! I thought those will do me something, but they didn't. They all were like sitting or kneeling or something. I don't know how to explain that thing. But suddenly an ant with a crown was running towards me and I again ran. But this time, the other ants were fighting him and protecting me. One ant said came to me and said "God, please sit on my back. I will take you to the throne". I wanted to ask it how it can speak english and whatwas happening, but many many ants were running towards us. So, I went with it.

It took me to inside the castle and it was really like a real castle. It had roomes, thrones, etc. I was not able to understand what was happening. The ant said, "We are here in the front of throne, please go and sit there". As I didn't understand anything going around, I shouted at him "WHAT IS GOING ON? HOW CAN YOU EVEN SPEAK WITH ME? WHAT IS THIS?". The ant looked at me and laughed. It ran to me like a bull and I didn't run or anything. It hit me. I closed my eyes. When I opened it, I was at my room. Well, it was not a dream. That Alustunees drink in the bottle was empty. I don't know will you believe my story, but still I am publishing it.
